Short Description

Magnificent robust antique jewellery made of solid mahogany and veneered in Coromandel with robust brass edging, ornate vacant brass initial plate and escutcheon.

The antique box interior is lined in black silk paper and dark purple velvet. It features a removable jewellery tray with two padded compartments suitable for watches and two small brass handles on either side. Underneath the tray the compartment mirrors the removable jewellery tray having a central divider running the length, again perfect for a few watches or unsightly TV remotes.

This antique box comes with a fully working lock and tasselled key.
